Stand up for the Reef!

As world leaders meet for the UN's emergency Climate Change Summit in New York, people are coming together in every corner of the globe for the world's biggest ever mobilisation on climate.

Right here in Queensland, our climate is under threat from plans to turn the Great Barrier Reef into the world's biggest coal port.

We need to raise our voices and show the Government and companies that Australians won't let them Risk the Reef. Join us at Queens Park for a march through the streets of Brisbane.

The largest ever global day of climate action.

As world leaders meet for the UN's emergency Climate Change Summit in New York, people are coming together in every corner of the globe for the world's biggest climate mobilisation.

Our Government is failing to protect us from dangerous climate change. Australians are leading the way, by standing up to new fossil fuel projects and building the solutions from the ground up.

Join us to hear about inspiring grassroots campaigns right here in Adelaide, and learn how to get involved.
